HOCKER & Co., Beaver Dam.
Mr. Matt Neel, South Carrollton started his last raft of logs out of Rough Creek Monday. He has run several rafts prior to this.
If you want to get the worth of your money, go to Martin the jeweler for anything you want in his line. He will treat you white.
Cheap Fertilizers ruin your land and rob you of a crop. Ask your neighbor why he don't buy Homestead and Horse Shoe.
HOCKER & Co., Beaver Dam.
If you desire to see one of the coolest rocking chairs ever brought to Hartford, call on S. A. Williams. The chair is made of rattan and cane.
Dr. W. B. White, of Cloverport will be in Hartford on 12th, 13th and 14th, and 16th and 17th of April at Ryline. Anyone needing dental work done should call and see him.
Mrs. Sam Bell, living near Buford, by mistake, took a dose of morphine instead of the medicine prescribed by her physician. Dr. Pendleton was immediately summoned and soon resuscitated her.
Horace Greeley said "Go West, young man"—but we suggest that everybody who raises chickens get a bottle of Gunter's chicken cholera cure. If it fails, your money will be refunded by your druggist.
Mr. J. A. Armendi, of Hartford, is in the city. He is looking for a location, and it is least likely that he will remove to Owensboro. He is a young man of energy and business success.—Owensboro Messenger.
Mrs. Ida Paxton, Beaver Dam is in Louisville, this week purchasing her spring stock of Millinery. She will return Saturday, and open up for the Spring trade a fine line of Millinery goods which she will sell at reasonable rates. The ladies should see her before purchasing elsewhere.
The Hartford Water Mill is in the very best running order, and what is pleasing to all, it is doing an immense business and giving entire satisfaction. Their facilities are such that they can do all work in their line with great dispatch. Would that we had many such enterprises in our town.
Appropriate Easter services were held at the M. E. Church Sunday. The pulpit and altar were tastefully decorated with natural flowers. Rev. W. L. Smith preached on the resurrection, at eleven o'clock, and Rev. L. E. Campbell preached at night on the resurrection of the body.
The members of the Goshen church will please meet at Goshen on next Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, to clear away the debris from the yard and house, preparatory to the dedication of the church on the 5th Sunday in this month. Both ladies and gentlemen are requested to be present.
L. E. CAMPBELL.
Addie Pate, son of John Pate of Goshen neighborhood, came very near losing his life by a falling tree, on the 29th ult. Several parties met on the church ground at Goshen on the above date, to clear away the debris and cut some timber. Addie Pate, a youth, was present and was caught under a falling tree and almost killed. He was better at last report.

Mr. Chas. S. Robertson, of Rockport, Ky., has accepted a position as traveling salesman for Harris & Co., Jewelers of Louisville, Ky. We must congratulate the gentlemen on securing the services of such a worthy man.
Mrs. W. G. Duncan was taken suddenly worse on yesterday one week ago, and a telegram was sent from Huntington, Ind., where she had gone on a visit, summoning her relatives at once. Since that time she has been in a very precarious condition and her death is momentarily expected.
Still they come and still they come. Oh! ye gods! will the new goods never cease rolling in?—our counters are full, our store house full, and our warehouse full, full everything is full except the clerks. We are over-bought, over-stocked, we have to sell goods to make room for more. To secure the best bargains, come early. We handle everything and take any kind of produce—still selling a No. 1 coffee at 10¢ per lb. per pound or 5 pounds for a dollar.
S. A. JACOBSON & SON, The Rockport Merchants.
The Entertainment.
The entertainments given by the R. E. C. and Adelpian Literary Societies Friday and Saturday nights were highly appreciated by large audiences both nights. The cast of characters was admirably adapted to the parts played, and many were the compliments passed upon the several members. The societies did credit to themselves and to the school of which they form an important factor.

Rockport to the Front.
While Hartford is booming in weddings, Rockport, Ky., being determined to not be outdone by anybody, has had a wedding that downed them all. It seems that quite recently, there has been a sensational affair as a very romantic wedding in the town. It is just leaking out and will be a startler to even the citizens of Rockport. Our argus-eyed reporter was in the coming metropolis last week, and had an intimation of the affair from an inside party, and one who knew all about it. We promise our readers to find out the particulars and give them a full version of it in our next issue. If you wish to read something rich, rare and racy, look out for the Rockport wedding next week.
To Select Delegates.
In harmony with the call sent out by the State Committee, the County Committee for Ohio County in session Monday, April 2d, called a convention to meet in Hartford, Saturday, May 5th, to select delegates to the State Convention which will meet at Lexington.

A Call for Help.
I take this means of saying to all friends and well-wishers of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and cause of Christianity in the town of Hartford, that we wish to immediately resume work on our church building, and push the same to speedy completion. We feel that not only the interests of our own congregation, but the cause of God in general, demands that this house of worship be completed. Will those who have not given us any assistance, please consider the importance of helping us at once? and will those who have subscribed, and not paid any or all of their subscription, please pay their subscriptions; or at least a portion thereof, without delay?
We know there is a great financial pressure upon us, but if all will help us we can easily complete our church without burdening any. God's word says, "There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty." WILLIS SMITH, Pastor of C. P. Church, Hartford, Ky.

school as it is, than have two that are not so good. We hope to see a full spring school, and my advice to students is, to make use of the time while you have an opportunity, for education is a grand thing. Attention gives education, and education brings morality; so let us all be more attentive to our work, that we may grow in knowledge and morality.
Dennis Myers is improving slowly. The wheat crop in this section is very short and thin on the ground. There will be a large crop of oats and corn planted this spring.
Aunt Jane Tichenor, who has been sick for several days is convalescent. Mr. Leman Bennett has bought J. A. McKenney's fine top buggy, and will take several pleasure trips this summer. Hurray! boys, this is leap-year.
Laurie Tichenor will soon have his new dwelling completed.

ABBIEVILLE.
April 1, 1888.
I wonder what streak of good luck enabled Halifax Farmer to procure so much nice white corn, beans and pumpkin seed with which to plant his marvelous crop, since the last account I had of him (it must have been him) he was scrambling away on the old collector's gray horse that had been opportunely brought around by the thin, seemingly obnoxious appearance of his As anxious as I am to learn of the further developments of his experience in farming, I am equally so to learn of his anterior successes and reverses. And by the way, it don't seem that the mama-in-law had any say in matters pertaining to the truck patch arrangement. Trust a noble son-in-law for that.
Misses Lydia and Liza Williams, two beautiful young ladies of Pleasant Ridge, accompanied by their brother, Mr. Albert, are visiting at R. E. Williams'. Mr. Mansfield Hipsley and wife are ailing at this writing.
Quarterly meeting was held at Pleasant Hill Sunday.
Mr. G. G. Porter has been repairing his fence with slat and wire.
Miss Edna Beat, of Davies county, returned home with Miss Maggie McCormick, and will visit relatives near here on her return home. Miss Ella Lewis will open up a spring school at Pleasant Hill house Monday. Miss Hanna Hoover, of Beda, is visiting her cousin Miss Oma Hoover this week.
Mr. Dave Hewlett and wife, of near Green River, and Mr. W. Hoover, of Beech Grove, visited Mr. Dick Hoover recently. Miss Lily and Lila Ewert, of Ramsey, Ky., are visiting relatives near here. Mrs. Leah Sandefur, who has been confined to her bed for over a year, is worse at this writing. Rufus Williams will start Monday to Evansville with the remainder of his logs. Barnett's Creek is jammed fuller of loose logs than was ever known before.
